Explore Russia and Europe by Rail or River

Wednesday 24 February 2010: If the thought of undertaking the world's longest, and arguably most famous, rail journey appeals to you, then don't miss the latest Lyn McNaught Travel Information Night.

Famed British travel writer Eric Newby wrote of the experience: "There is no railway journey of comparable length anywhere in the world. The Trans Siberian is the big train ride. All the rest are peanuts."

Travelling on the Golden Eagle Trans Siberian Express you can take that one step further – this is pure luxury and a far cry from the crowded carriages depicted in that other famous Russian icon Dr. Zhivago.

Australia Pacific Tours (APT) representative Matthew Lunn will take you on a virtual tour of the 8000 kilometre rail journey which takes in Russia, China and Mongolia.

Launched in 2007, the Golden Eagle equals luxurious train travel with private cabins featuring power showers, underfloor heating, DVD/CD players with LCD screens, audio systems and wardrobe space.

If visiting charming European cities, towns and villages via a European river ship is more to your liking, find out about the range of Russian river touring itineraries on offer.

"These river ships are truly the finest on Europe's waters," Lyn said.

"People who have returned from adventures on the Russian and European railways and rivers, have the most amazing travel stories to tell."

"Highlights of these trips include glimpses into the backyard of rural Russia, including the famed Siberia, as well as the hustle and bustle of major cities."

The Information Night will be held at Lyn McNaught Travel, 50 McLennan Street, Mooroopna on Tuesday 16th March, beginning at 7.00pm.

Bookings are essential and can be made by calling into Lyn McNaught Travel, phoning 5825 1866 or emailing travelscene@lynmcnaught.com
